Environmental, Health & Safety Positions

Timberlands Ltd is a Forestry Management Company based in Rotorua, New Zealand. We are looking to fill two exceptional Environmental, Health and Safety positions. Our two ideal candidates will complement each others skill set, with one having a systems management focus and the other an operational compliance focus.

EH&S Systems Manager key tasks:

- Provide exceptional administration of our EH&S incident system (SCRIM)
- Produce EH&S statistics and analysis reports
- Drive continuous system improvements to ensure high quality data and reporting
- Coordinate an annual schedule of health & safety meetings
- Assist with health & safety benchmarking
- Develop and manage TL safety certification (to replace WSMP)

EH&S Compliance Officer key tasks:

- Operationalise EH&S systems
- Provide expert guidance to staff and contractors on our EH&S systems including our incident system (SCRIM)
- Build safety leadership capabilities through coaching and mentoring
- Provide technical advise on operational issues
- Complete safety and environmental risk assessments, investigations and audits
- Undertake EH&S inductions

Both roles are full time, permanent positions.

Applicants for these positions should have NZ residency or current eligibility to work in New Zealand.
